New Craftsman Style on a Boring Brick Home

With her husband serving in Iraq, a woman oversees the renovation of their home.

TEMPE, AZ — April 29, 2009 — Host Dan Schachner and designer Dan Banks have their work cut out for them when they embark on the McCoys' home makeover. With one homeowner overseas serving in Iraq and the other expecting their second child, it's a race against the clock to turn this boring, flat brick house into a stylish craftsman style home.

The episode to be aired on May 2nd at 12:30PM (e/p) features the installation by Parker Door Company of Waldorf, Maryland. The style of the garage door will be discussed and viewers will see how it compliments the renewed curb appeal of the home. The episode will also be rebroadcast on May 31, 2009 at 10:00 AM (e/p).

For 1st United Door Technologies, this was the second project that they have partnered with the producers of Curb Appeal. The company was proud to be a part of this particular project as they could do something to show their support for a soldier serving their country in Iraq and his family.

1st United Door Technologies, manufactures residential and commercial sectional garage doors, owns and operates its corporate office and manufacturing facility in Tempe, Arizona.
